GUMFIGHTING PRACTICE AND TECHNIQUES.

GUMFIGHTING THROUGH HISTORY.

Ever since the dawn of bubble gum, man has engaged in gumfighting. Put simply, gumfighting is head to head — face to face — nose to nose — bubble to bubble — where the biggest bubble takes all. Sound simple? Not so fast. Even top gumfighters have ended up in some pretty sticky situations.

Early 18th century gumfighters.

THE CHEW TO CHOOSE.

To get you started off on the right foot, we'd like to get you started off on the right bubble gum. New Hubba Bubba® Bubble Gum. Soft and juicy Hubba Bubba is the brand new bubble gum with amazing no-stick bubbles™. That's right, no-stick bubbles! And no-stick bubbles mean you can blow bubbles as big as you want and not have to worry about them sticking to your face. Does Hubba Bubba really work? 98.8% of the faces tested said yes.

GUMFIGHT PRACTICE DRILL.

The secret to becoming a great gumfighter is practice, practice, and more practice. And the only gum to practice with is new Hubba Bubba. So pick up a pack and pop a soft, juicy chunk in your mouth. While you're enjoying that great long-lasting Hubba Bubba flavor, proceed with this simple yet effective gumfight drill:

© 1997 Wm. Wrigley Jr. Co.

2.

Begin blowing bubble. You will note that Hubba Bubba's amazing formula lets you blow an incredibly large bubble.

When the Hubba Bubba bubble breaks do not be alarmed. Hubba Bubba is not your ordinary bubble gum.

Simply remove Hubba Bubba from your face. That's right, simply remove and replace in mouth. Return to step 1.

After you have mastered this basic gumfighting technique, try it out on someone. Remember for a successful gumfight, be

ALL BUBBLE GUMS ARE NOT ALIKE.

Other bubble gum.

Hubba Bubba Bubble Gum.

The kid on the left is blowing bubbles with another gum. The kid on the right is blowing bubbles with new Hubba Bubba. Note the size of that Hubba Bubba bubble.

As you see, a sticky situation is developing on the left. But not on the right.

Notice the Hubba Bubba bubble comes right off the face and goes back in the mouth. As for the bubble gum on the left, those are the breaks.

To be sure you're getting the genuine article (Hubba Bubba in original or mint flavors), study the picture below very carefully. Then repeat: Hubba Bubba—Hubba Bubba—Hubba Bubba—Hubba Bubba—Hubba Bubba—Hubba Bubba—Hubba Bubba.

Get some delicious new Hubba Bubba soon and see for yourself. Your bubble troubles are over.

SOFT. JUICY. DELICIOUS.

BIG BUBBLES. NO TROUBLES.

sure your opponent is not chewing Hubba Bubba Bubble Gum — the soft and juicy bubble gum with amazing no-stick bubbles.

ROGER STERN
EDITOR
JIM SALICRUP
ASSISTANT EDITOR

MOKF seems to have a knack for eliciting what, in the Bulletin, is called "the special letter"—the kind of reader response which transcends normal praise or criticism, which indeed breaks down all barriers on its clean true path to the very roots of give and take. It is with honor, and no false immodesty, that we print the following missive as the most recent example of this very special form of communication...

Dear Doug,

I find fewer and fewer things in our popular culture that attempt to inspire an emotional response in me, and even fewer which succeed in doing so. Bruce Springsteen's music is a shining example of one such experience; when I hear him sing "Backstreets" or "Badlands," it's as if he is redefining the state of "soul," and I am discovering myself for the first time. As a child, I was affected similarly by comicbooks, for I was discovering myself, literally waking up from unconsciousness. But something changed with the years. I continued to grow, but the comics stopped. I still read them, always hoping for that old joy, but, with the exception of very rare meaningful books, I never got much more than sensational fantasy—and even that grew tiresome after a while. Still, I could not give up, and kept telling myself: Something has got to happen, sooner or later. And so, I kept searching for that anima.

And now, much later, something finally has come along which is possessed of that vital force, informing my real work of art: Two of your comics, Doug, namely MOKF #s. 71 and 76... coincidentally purchased simultaneously.

To borrow a phrase from Cat Yronwode, the reason I read comics (or pursue any artform) is to discover "that golden kernel of truth about the human heart." I look not merely for sensation, but emotion. And although it is becoming more and more difficult to distinguish the two, we must do so, if only to preserve our humanity. The media constantly glut our senses and sensibilities with slick stimuli that rarely get to the core of any real feeling. But perhaps this is acceptably within the scheme of things, for when something does ring deeply true, I am taken aback, struck with an auroral optimism, and pulled back into the flow.

Recently, I found it necessary to relocate from California and the move has produced some insecurities in me; the pieces of my life must now be realigned, repatterned—not an easy task. So you may well understand why a story such as "Night-Times" comes as a welcome objectification of my own soul. Doug, your overriding parable of the jigsaw puzzle in this story was perfect on every level, despite its obviousness. As Shang Chi says on page 21: "...if the spirit remains true, the symbol can never be false." Shang's spiritual searching, the real heart of MOKF, is again the central theme here, as well as in issue #76. The Brynckli issues were a bizarrely amusing diversion, but I'm glad you're getting back to the meat. The symbolic structure of the opening scene in #76 reads as something drawn from inside me. I am fascinated by smoke, intrigued by beads, and sickened by the violent shedding of lifeblood. How you weave these metaphors into the story is a credit to your own spirit. The paradigm of this symbolism in "Smoke, Beads, and Blood" comes on page 6, where the Tao is again shattered. After everything said and depicted up to that point, the effect is profound, for me as well as for Shang-Chi. I, too, sometimes feel similarly torn and unsure of my spiritual growth, and I likewise know that if there can be anything akin to "universal peace, solitary tranquility," it must come of a union with yin—my anima, to use the word now in the Jungian sense. You have reached not just the heart, Doug, but the soul.

"NightTimes" (is the serious play, on "night-times" intentional?) was a touching love story transcending superficial soap opera. I actually felt every emotion along with Leiko and Shang. And when Fate stepped in, as it inevitably does, destroying the tenuous peace of the scene, I was shocked and scattered myself, like the pieces of a broken jigsaw puzzle. With the main body of this issue as an emotional foundation, the final reflections of Shang, and the reprised-intrusion of the "violent wind," are not just literary echoes but glimpses of the bare soul of fiction. In truth, there are no answers, merely situations—"we do as we must"—you will never break the chain. These are simple, even facile phrases, I know, but when animated by a reality that is lived fully, they take on a spirit of their own. By creating incidents and situations with that same spirit, you have realized the paradox that underlies all true communication. You have shown me myself in a new light. I thank you for the experience.

On a less emotional, yet equally essential level, these two stories belong to that rare species of comicbook I'd be proud to show to any of my "non-comicbook fan" friends. This is as much to Mike Zeck's credit as it is to yours. His layouts are growing more and more exciting with each issue. And now, with the addition of Gene Day's inks (permanent?—I hope so), his art is strong enough to stand with Gulacy's best. (I hate to make such comparisons—however fine past work may have been, it is still past—but Paul's excellent illustrations are not easily forgotten.)

In closing, let me voice my trepidations as to the worthiness of this letter. I realize it's unfair for a fan to have expectations of an artist; the artist is responsible only to himself and his integrity. In certain senses, any criticism—especially that which is highly complimentary—becomes self-serving. But the impulse to share one's emotions or reactions with the person who generated them is just too strong to ignore. Therefore, the above is offered in the spirit of honest artifice, hoping that it has revealed something of myself to you. Were I nearby, I'd invite you over for tea and Springsteen; as it is, Doug, I can only ask that you accept my praise as sincere.

Raymond Orkwis
406 Alice St.
Pittsburgh, PA 15210

There's not much we can say in reply, except to repeat that both Mike and Doug were truly honored by your letter, Raymond. And anything we might add, it seems, would have to be done in person.

In the meantime, and until next issue, be good.

STAN'S SOAPBOX

Hoo boy! I've had some tough columns to write in all the years I've been bringing these mellifluous little messages to the ribald ranks of Marveldom Assembled, but I've never had one that was tougher than this! Since I don't really know how to start, I might as well just take a deep breath and plunge right in.

Remember a couple of issues back when I devoted the entire column to the sensational subject of the great new mag we're about to launch? Remember how I told you it'll be the biggest and boldest thing since Thor's new hair net? And now, here comes the heartbreaking part! Remember when I told you the title would be ODYSSEY? You do remember? Gulp—I was afraid of that!

Okay, you've probably guessed the rest. After me ramming that title down your trusting little throats, we find we've gotta change it! Only to mixed-up Marvel could a calamity like this happen! We can't use the name—someone else in another part of the country has a mag with the same name. So, we've had to come up with a new one. It'll be the same pandemonious publication, the same magnificent magazine, the same super-sensational collection of brain-blasting strips, dynamite illustrations, and cataclysmic concepts! Only the name has been changed. So, here we go again. Disregard the previous message. Erase the other name from your bionic memory bank. Clear your cerebral circuits and reactivate all remembrance functions. Ready? Okay. The new name of the greatest magazine we've ever created—which will go on sale in the very near future—the magazine which every fantasy fan, every comicbook fan, every fan of science-fiction, sword-and-sorcery, mysticism, magic, adventure, super spectacle, and high-tension non-stop sheer excitement is waiting for is—hang onto your ear-muffs, eager ones—EPIC! That's it; you heard us right! EPIC! It's short, stark, and to the point! EPIC! Thou must not; thou dare not, thou shalt not forget—EPIC! The magazine that will make every other publication (except ours, of course) seem weak, and wan, and weebe gone by comparison!

Well, I'm not gonna labor the point. If you don't remember it by now, don't worry. Everyone will soon be talking about it, so you'll be reminded easily enough. EPIC! Wowee, what a title! It can't possibly miss—after all, when you spell it backwards it comes out CIEP! (I know I shouldn't have said that! You can bet some smartguy is gonna walk to the newsstand and ask for a copy of CIEP! So forget it! Wipe it out! It's EPIC, hear? It rhymes with wepic, which—like most of what I say—doesn't mean a thing!)

Next ish I'll clue you in to some of the frankly fantastic features you'll find in EPIC. Hey, I just thought—won't EPIC look great on a t-shirt? We'll start designing one right away! So save your pennies, Pilgrim—the Age of EPIC will soon be upon us, and we don't wantcha to miss a single part of the EPIC celebration!

So, till next time, don't let a minute go to waste. Make a list of all the words you can find that rhyme with EPIC—we'll give a free subscription to the nut who comes up with the most! Just send 'em to THE EPIC EPIDEMIC, c/o MARVEL COMICS, 575 Madison Ave., N.Y.C., N.Y. 10022.

And now, I've got to leave you and race back to the EPIC office. Shooter and Marschall are helping to design the contents page, and I heard a rumor that they're trying to letter their names bigger than mine!

Yours till Perry White becomes our newest editor!

EPICelsior!

Stan

ITEM! Looks like it's Marvel's month to take it on the chin! Would you believe that besides having a super-snafu over the name of ODYSSEY...oops, EPIC, that we managed to foul up on the printing date of our sensational new FUN AND GAMES Magazine? Due to some last minute problems we had to shift around our publishing schedules and the first titanic issue, with all its perplexing puzzles, mazes, and games, didn't hit the stands until last month, instead of in April, as previously stated on this page. How embarrassing! You won't believe this, but it wasn't because we had trouble finishing the furslugginer thing. Actually, we had completed the first issue well in advance, but somewhere further down the line, a glitch in the system caused the delay. Sigh! Oh, well. Anyway, rest assured, friends, that if thou ventur'st forth to thy local newsstand now, there shalt thou find FUN AND GAMES #2, bigger add better than ever. Yes, it's chock-full of brain-teasing goodies featuring our snazzy super guys and gals (Betcha always wondered what they did on their day off!) and it's only 50¢! So go get it—this time, for sure!

ITEM! We may be confused, but those friendly folks at Pocket Books know just what they're doing it seems. This month they're releasing not one but two sensational new novels featuring Marvel heroes! While you're waiting for us to get our act together, why not trot over to your local bookstore and snarf up Call My Killer...Modok! starring the invincible Iron Man, and Nightmare starring Doctor Strange. They're both far out flights of fantasy-adventure and they're only $1.95 each!

ITEM! More paperback madness! It so happens that this month our esteemed cohorts, Grosset & Dunlap, have prepared for your enjoyment the fifth installment in the Conan paperback series! CONAN #5 features the adventures of the sullen-eyed Cimmerian originally appearing in issues 12, 13, and 16 of our Conan magazine. Great stuff! And surprise, guys, the second Battlestar Galactica paperback is here too, featuring stories from issues 4, 5, and 6! Both of these are printed in full color, on sale at bookstores everywhere, and priced to sell!

ITEM! "Hey," said our Assistant Editor, Inpatient Jim Selicrup, looking up from his gruel one lunchtime. The brownish goo drizzled greasily from his shaggy beard. "Hey, why don't we do a comic starring Alice Cooper! I hear his latest album, 'From the Inside,' is a gas." Recreational Headmaster Shooter simply sneered. "Alice Cooper? Bah! Lunchtime 'n' finished! Back to editorial therapy!" Nurse Florio helped Selicrup into his straightjacket and he limped off sniveling. Shooter continued to sneer, but his imagination was piqued. If only the Marvel Institution could get its hands on this "Alice Cooper." A rock star! Wouldn't Dr. Lee, the Institutional Director be pleased! Perhaps this fool Selicrup could be used to trick Cooper into being...committed. Time passed, plans were hatched, machinations were effected and now...it's done! He's inside now, a new face in the Marvel Madhouse! Alice Cooper is trapped in MARVEL PREMIERE #50, the grandest, wildest, weirdest, psychotic fantasy of all. Only forty crummy cents, at your newsstand, as usual. Buy it now before it...gets away!

ITEM! Just a quick word or two about some other hot stuff coming at you this month. AVENGERS #188, for instance, in which Earth's mightiest heroes have to battle a whole new team of villains, not to mention the Soviet Army. MACHINE MAN #31 also introduces a new villain—just one—but he's a doozie! DOCTOR STRANGE #33 ends the career of a major villain in an awesome mystic battle which climaxes the multi-part epic that's been unfolding, lo, these past six issues! The Marvel Age rolls on!

THE INCREDIBLE HULK

AND THE ULTIMATE WEAPON!

"MI-6 AGENTS--AGAIN!"

"IT SEEMS THAT EVERYONE HAS PIERCED THE SECRET OF LEEKS' RIDDLE... BUT NOW--"

"--A SOUND FROM ABOVE."

GRAB THE LADDER SHANG!

"SHE SWERVES THE HELICOPTER, AND I BECOME A MOVING, SWINGING, TWISTING TARGET--BUT STILL, IF THEY CONTINUE FIRING, SOONER OR LATER--"

HANG ON, SHANG WHILE I TAKE CARE OF THOSE THUGS IN THE STREET--

--AND THEN I'LL LET YOU DOWN!

"FAR FROM THE BLOSSOMING GAS, I HOPE."

How we saved the universe with our Banana-Talkies and got back to tell about it with our Banana-Compasses.

We were on patrol when the space ship landed. My partner and I split up to get a closer look. But, before I knew it, I was captured by hostile aliens. "I have just one request before you disintegrate me!" I said. "Can I finish my lunch?" I calmly pulled out my Banana-Talkie. It's a real walkie-talkie, but it looks like a Chiquita® banana. Secretly, I beeped out our coordinates on the hidden Morse Code button.

Meanwhile, my partner used the Banana-Compass to send help in our direction. Thanks to Chiquita bananas (and some quick thinking) the invasion was stopped, and the universe is once again safe from evil.

Banana-Talkies: A pair of solid state, 11" Walkie-Talkies with voice volume control, telescopic antenna, Morse Code chart, secret "beep" button and belt clip. ONLY $13.95 and 3 stickers from Chiquita bananas. Battery NOT INCLUDED.

Banana-Compass: A 5 1/4" long, plastic banana that holds a liquid filled compass capsule. Inside is a rotating dial that always remains upright so it can be read easily. ONLY $2.50 and 3 stickers from Chiquita bananas.
